Community Profile Narrative

The people of Ballinger are friendly and the town has many beautifully restored historical homes and buildings, antique stores, active civic organizations, a thriving downtown district, and two industrial plants.

The Runnels County courthouse square is one of the largest in the state and hosts the Texas State Festival of Ethnic Cultures and Arts & Crafts Show, held the last weekend of each April. The festival features the Colorado River Bike Fest, a large parade, ethnic food booths, approximately 100 handmade arts and crafts booths, live entertainment, and a huge dance with a popular band on Saturday night. There are also a number of fishing tournaments held in Ballinger.

There are a number of interesting features in town. The Santa Fe Depot was built in 1911 by the A.T. & SF Railroad, renovated in 1983 and now houses the City Offices and Chamber of Commerce. The Pioneer Plaza is Ballinger's award winning Bicentennial project. It is located downtown across the street from the Town Square and Runnels County Courthouse. It has benches, trees, gazebo and a lighted fountain. The Charles H. Noyes Statue, sculptured by Pompeo Coppini, stands on the courthouse lawn, and is dedicated to the "Spirit of the Texas Cowboy." The Cross, a large sculpture, was commissioned by the Jim and Doris Studer Family and was constructed by Steve Jansa, of Jansa Construction, Rowena, Texas. It was erected October 6th and October 7th, 1993. There was a Multi-Faith Dedication November 28, 1993. The Runnels County Veterans Memorial on the Runnels County Courthouse square honors those from the county who have served in the United States Military. The monument has seven stones. The larger centerpiece describes the memorial. Two immediate side pieces have the names of those killed in action. The four remaining stones contain the names of those from Runnels County who have served in the armed forces. There are more than 1,550 names on the monument.

The Memory Lane Automotive Museum, located at 8th and Strong Avenue is across the street from the Ballinger Post Office. The museum houses Weldon & Jean Brookshire's private collection of world class antique and classic automobiles. The collection also includes commercial vehicles. The museum is accented with beautiful displays and a collection of antique automotive and petroleum industry signs.
